

11 bosses we never forget

(and why they're so rare)

By Alec Rickard

1. The boss who stood up for us.

- They gave you trust and responsibility.
- But had your back when things went wrong.

2. The boss who truly listened.

- They pushed you to do your best work.
- But also cared about what you needed to succeed.

3. The boss who recognized effort.

- They set the bar high with tough goals.
- But celebrated every milestone you hit.

4. The boss who showed integrity.

- They led by example every single day.
- But also kept you accountable to the standard.

5. The boss who sparked leadership in you.

- They challenged you to think of the team first.
- And inspired you to lead one yourself someday.

6. The boss who believed in you.

- They saw your doubts and insecurities.
- And built your confidence step by step.

7. The boss who valued family.

- They asked for hard work and commitment.
- But reminded you family always comes first.

8. The boss who opened doors.

- They encouraged you to take charge of growth.
- And gave access to opportunities you couldn't reach alone.

9. The boss who gave second chances.

- They told you when you fell short.
- But gave you room to make it right.

10. The boss who told us to try again.

- They let you fail and learn for yourself.
- And pushed you to stand up and try again.

11. The boss who let us grow and move on.

- They were proud of your progress.
- And supported you when it was time to leave.

Found this useful?

Repost to help your network.

Follow me Alec Rickard for winning strategies to be promoted